You may not know its name, but you’ve probably seen photos of it soaking in hot springs on social media. This “giant hamster,” or capybara, is a favorite among zoo goers and animal lovers. Here are some interesting facts about these charming animals.

☺ They are big.

As the world’s largest rodent, adult capybaras weigh around 50 kg. That’s as heavy as some humans! They are average about 1.2 m in length and are up to 60 cm tall. Although their sizes are big, they are fast runners that can reach speeds of up to 35 km an hour.

☺ They love the water.

Capybaras spend a lot of time in water. Their webbed toes help them move quickly through the water, and they can also stay underwater for up to five minutes at a time to avoid predators. Capybaras have even been known to sleep in the water to prevent getting sunburned.

☺ They are highly social animals.

A capybara generally lives in a group of 10 to 20. Besides, capybaras enjoys making friends with other animal species...and sometimes the capybaras' new friends use them as "furniture"! It's not uncommon to see monkeys, rabbits, and even birds resting on a capybara's back while it eats.

It's clear that the capybara is dear to the hearts of many. Whether it's on social media or at your local zoo, these furry friends are sure to put a smile on your face.
